The Colts Neck Alliance is part of a statewide Municipal Alliance initiative established in 1989 and operating under the Governor's Council on Alcoholism and Drug Abuse (GCADA). GCADA is the most expansive network of community-based drug prevention coalitions nationwide, with over 500 municipalities participating. GCADA is supported by the Drug Education Demand Reduction (DEDR) fund that collects fines from drug offense convictions. Alliance funding is provided according to identified community-specific at-risk behaviors and current substance abuse trends based on research, statistics, and data.
